You have the option of adding pre-printed text and another blank page to your book. If you leave the pre-printed text panel blank, this is the place you enter your text. The number of blank pages you have will depend on the number of pages you want in the book. Once you have added text and pre-printed text, click the Add text button. You can add text in the order you want it in the book. Presto Photo's photo book service will do all the work to correctly position your text on the page, make sure you use nice, clean text. It is possible to change the order of your text at any time in future, but not without deleting your text. The red text button on the right panel allows you to select from a range of text styles available, for example, from standard font color to bold. You can change the color of text in the red text panel and change the size of the text. All these files are in PDF format, which means you can use anything that lets you print to PDF, such as CutePDFs, Recoft, Adobes Acrobat reader, Adobe Illustrator, etc. Basically, you want to use a program that lets you print to PDF. If it works, you can use any program you want to put these files in your book. When you preview the book, Presto will tell you what you need to do to make it look great. "so to print a PDF copy of a PDF, and then convert it to a format friendly to most print shops. "And 1: 90.32 on that machine. If you open a PDF file in Presto Photo , its easier than some other methods. The file is converted to PostScript and then PostScript is sent to the printer. Have fun. When will U learn enough coding and formats of pc/mac to do things for yourself instead of regurgitating paid work. One can get the file converted to an html (or word) or txt. This would support ePub, and the ePub format can be read on Kindle, Nook and iPad. Paypal Authorized reseller.
